Dear Parents/Carers: This week, we took delivery of two big boxes of books from the Scholastic Book Company, books that we were able to access for free from the sales we made in the last book fair. Thank you firstly, to everyone who bought at the fair, and, secondly, we do appreciate all the reading that goes on at home each week. Reading each night really makes a great difference to how your child progresses. If you have questions about reading, please do ask.

Kind regards Chris Burman

Mid-winter was brightened last Saturday by the annual Wassail at West Croft Farm in Brent Knoll (photos above). Many thanks to the children, parents and family members who attended and joined in with the ceremony, especially Tabitha, our Wassail queen. Lots of great pictures can also be viewed on the following link, courtesy of Burnham on Sea.com:

A trip to the Hippodrome theatre in Bristol on Wednesday afternoon by members of Pegasus Class was also much enjoyed. The children (photo left) watched a performance of Wicked in the company of Mrs Baker, Mrs Weston and Miss Perrett. Thanks go to everyone who made this event possible.
